
MA in International Economic Policy (MIEP) Professional Specialization: Economic Development (Sample of Relevant Classes)

Students pursuing this focus may find this list helpful. However, these are just suggestions. These courses have all been offered in recent semesters but specific offerings vary from semester to semester.

ECON 6293 Emerging Markets Capital Flows and Crises
ECON 6295 Macroeconomic Policy: Case Studies
ECON 6237 Economics of Environment and Natural Resources
ECON 6255 Economics of Technological Change
ECON6269 Economy of China
ECON 6295 Economics of Middle East and North Africa
ECON 6292 Economics of U.S. Trade Policy
IAFF 6118 Public Private Sector Collaboration
IAFF 6198 Trade and Development Policy
IAFF 6138 Climate Change & Sustainable Development
IAFF 6138 Global Food Security
IAFF 6138 Gender & Economic Development
IAFF 6138 Evidence Based Evaluation International Development
IAFF 6138 Gender & Development
IAFF 6138 Private Sector Development
IAFF 6142 Technology Creation and Diffusion
IAFF 6198 Corruption, Development and Governance
IAFF 6358 Migration, Remittances & Development
IAFF 6358 Economic & Social Development of Latin America
IAFF 6378 Oil: Industry, Economy, and Society
PPPA 6057 International Development Administration
PPPA 6058 International Development NGO Management
PPPA 6059 International Development Management Processes and Tools
PPPA 6081 Poverty and Social Poverty
PUBH 6340 Health Economics and Finance